4) The Main Risks of Investing in the Fund

- a. The Fund is suitable for an investor who seeks simple capital appreciation with relatively low risks. Given the nature of the Fund's investments, the value of its investments and income are likely to be volatile and, as a result, the Unit price may rise or fall.
- b. Past performance of the Fund or past performance of the benchmark is not an indicator of the future performance of the Fund.
- c. The Fund does not guarantee that its absolute performance or its performance relative to the Benchmark will be repeated or similar to any past performance.
- d. Investment in the Fund is not equivalent to making a deposit with a bank.
- e. Investors are hereby at risk that they may lose some or all of the money they invest in the Fund. Furthermore, Investor's investments in the Fund shall not constitute guaranteed liabilities of the Fund Manager or any affiliate or subsidiary, but shall be subject to the below mentioned investment risks. The Fund Manager shall not be liable for any claim(s) whatsoever, for any lost opportunity or any actual loss that may be incurred by the Investor, except in case of the willful default or gross negligence of the Fund Manager, subject always to the risks set out in these Terms and Conditions.
- f. The main risks of investment in the Fund include:
 - 1. Value Added Tax Risk: Investment in the Fund is subject to tax related risks, which could have an effect on the Fund's liquidity resulting in the reduction of the Fund's assets as well as the Fund's investment returns. These effects may cause a negative impact on the Unit price, Fund's performance and its NAV. Therefore, potential investors must obtain the relevant consultation in respect of the applicable taxations for acquiring or selling Units in the Fund.
 - 2. Natural Disasters Risk: Financial markets and investment sectors are affected by natural disasters that may result in price decreases, which may negatively affect the performance of the Fund and thus may have a negative impact on the Fund's NAV and the Unit price.
 - 3. Conflicts of Interest Risk: If there is a conflict of interest with the Fund Manager then this may affect the objectivity and independence of the Fund Manager's decisions, which may negatively affect the Fund's performance and thus may have a negative impact on the Fund's NAV and the Unit price.
 - 4. Relying on the Fund Manager's Staff Risk: The Fund Manager relies on its specialist team in order to manage the Fund, and therefore the Fund may be adversely affected by the loss of executives and employees associated. In such circumstances, it may be difficult to find replacement staff with the requisite level of experience and expertise and this may negatively affect the performance of the Fund and thus may have a negative impact on the Fund's NAV and the Unit price.
 - 5. Risk relating to the Issuer: The risk arises from the exposure to changes in the underlying financial conditions of the issuer due to changes in management, demand or products and services. This risk may also include situations where the issuer undergoes legal actions because of irregularities it commits, which may lead to the devaluation of its shares, and thus may negatively affect the performance of the Fund and thus may have a negative impact on the Fund's NAV and the Unit price.
 - 6. Exposure to Changes in Legislations: When investing in stock markets, there are risks related to changes in legislation enacted by different authorities related to financial markets, which could result in sharp fluctuation in prices. This may negatively affect the performance of the Fund and thus may have a negative impact on the Fund's NAV and the Unit price.
 - 7. Investment Strategy Risk: The Fund Manager does not make any representations, or offer any guarantee, that the Fund's investment strategies will achieve its purposes. As such, failing to achieve such purposes may negatively affect the Fund's NAV and thus may have a negative impact on the Fund's NAV and the Unit price.
 - 8. Risks of Investing in other investment funds: There are risks that may affect other investment funds, in which the Fund may invest, which are subject to short and mid-term fluctuations, volatility of the Unit price. As such, this may negatively affect the performance of the Fund and thus may have a negative impact on the Fund's NAV and the Unit price.

9. Economic Risk: The capital markets are affected by both global economic factors as well as regional economic factors. As such, capital markets decline during economic recessions, which could lead to the decline of the Fund NAV. In particular, the GCC economy is heavily dependent on oil prices and revenues, and is therefore subject to fluctuations in oil prices. As such, this may have an effect on government spending and could therefore affect the local and regional economy, which could as a result negatively affect the Fund's performance and its NAV and the Unit price. This risk also relates to the possibility of losses resulting from the collapse of a financial system that has negative effects on global or local economies and may adversely affect the performance of the Fund and may therefore have a negative impact on the Fund's NAV and the Unit price.
10. Credit Risk: If the Fund invests its cash assets in Murabaha transactions, there is a possibility that a borrower or counterparty to such transactions may be unable to repay or settle its obligations in a timely manner or may even fail to pay entirely, which could result in a significant decrease in the value of the Fund's NAV. As such, this could have a negative effect on the Fund's performance and its NAV and the Unit price.
11. Dealing with Third Parties Risk: The Fund may enter into transactions with third parties who may be unable to fulfill their contractual obligations under such transactions, which as a result could have a negative effect on the Fund's overall performance and its NAV and the Unit price.
12. Operational Risk: Operational risk is defined as risks resulting from inadequate or failed processes related to people, systems and external events including legal risks. It arises from potential disruptions of processes associated with the delivery of products or services to customers. As such, if any such event occurred, this may result in a negative impact on the Fund's performance and its NAV and Unit price.
13. Sukuk Risk: The Fund may invest in sukuk which are equivalent to senior unsecured debt instruments. As such, the investor may be exposed to capital risk if a credit event is encountered with the primary issuer. These sukuk can be denominated in SAR and/or USD. As such, this could have a negative effect on the Fund's NAV and Unit price.
14. Risk of structured products: The Fund may, from time to time, invest in structured products which are instruments issued with different conditions, payments and levels of risk associated with the performance of one of the assets or indices or the basket of assets and indices. The risks associated with investments in structured products are as follows:
15. Credit rating: structured products may not benefit from the same issued credit rating specified for other liabilities or entered into by the issuer of the concerned product. Changes may occur on some of the credit ratings issued by credit rating agencies with regard to the creditworthiness of the issuer or guarantor (if any) or the collateral of the relevant structured product, which would affect the value of the investor's investment. As such, this could have a negative effect on the Fund's NAV and Unit price.
16. Transfer Restrictions: transfer restrictions are applied to offering, sale and transfer of structured products in different jurisdictions. A holder of investment certificate does not have equivalent rights (e.g. right to recourse the invested amount in case of failure) entertained by the direct owner of the investment. As such, this could have a negative effect on the Fund's NAV and Unit price.
17. Basic credit risk of the issuer or guarantor (if any): structured products are exposed to the credit risk associated with the issuer, guarantor or the collateral of the relevant structured product, which may lead to the failure of the relevant issuer or guarantor (if any) to meet its payment obligations related to that structured product. The client depends on the creditworthiness of that issuer, guarantor and encumbered assets by way of security, as the case may be, and not any other party. Moreover, credit ratings are subject to downgrade. The client may not receive any return and/or lose its principal or a part thereof in the event of insolvency of the issuer and/or guarantor or failure to perform their obligations relating to the product.
18. Basic credit risk of a reference entity: fixed income structured products are exposed to basic credit risks related to a reference entity in the event of occurrence of a risk incident such as failure to pay, loan restructuring, non-payment of restructuring, bankruptcy, and repudiation (as in the case in financial solvency risks). Furthermore, financial instruments may be recovered at less than their face value or in severe case may lose their value completely, without having the agents to pay more profits. There will be circulating agents whose responsibility is to announce any developments relating to credit conditions in which may cause a decline in the value of a financial instrument or loss of its entire value. As such, this could have a negative effect on the Fund's NAV and Unit price.

19. Market risk: market value may move up or down depending on the movement of interest rates and performance of the senior reference entities, stocks, indices, financial condition or credit rating of the issuer/guarantor/collateral of the relevant structured product and other factors. Keeping a product is not like keeping senior shares or assets. Therefore, the market value of a product may be affected by factors other than those related to senior securities or assets. As such, this could have a negative effect on the Fund's NAV and Unit price.
20. Liquidity risk: liquidity refers to how quickly and easy it is to sell an asset and transfer it to cash. Some of the sukuk, bonds and structured products may be less liquid than other instruments which means they cannot be sold as quickly or easily. In addition, some of the sukuk, bonds and structured products may difficult to liquidate for the lack of a secondary market or because of legal restrictions or restrictions relating to the type of investment or relating to the fact that there are no buyers interested in this type of asset. As such, this could have a negative effect on the Fund's performance and consequently the Fund's NAV.
21. Interest rate risk: changes in monetary policy and interest rate fluctuations may affect currency prices and capital markets generally which may have a negative effect on the Fund's performance and consequently the Fund's NAV and Unit price.
22. Currency risk: The Fund may trade in securities that are not denominated in the principal currency of the Fund and as such will be subject to currency risks. Fluctuations in exchange rates may lead to increases or decreases in the Unit price which may have a negative effect on the Fund's NAV and Unit price.
23. Shariah-compliance related risk: The Fund invests mainly in Shariah compliant securities, and therefore a risk arises when any of the companies in whose securities the Fund has invested become non-compliant with certain provisions of Shariah. In such case, the Fund may be forced to sell such securities at a low price or in case of missing a better performance opportunity for those non-shariah compliant assets. This would affect the performance of the Fund, and in turn, have a negative impact on the net asset value in the Fund as well as the unit price.
24. Risks of Price Fluctuations: The general movement in the local and international capital markets, real estate markets, prevailing and expected economic conditions, profit rates, financing costs, investor confidence and general economic conditions may adversely affect the Units' market price, the Fund's performance and net asset value. Units' market is subject to fluctuations and the lack of liquidity could have a negative impact on the Units' market value. Accordingly, purchase of such Units is only suitable for investors who can bear the risks associated with such investments.
25. Technical Risks: The Fund Manager technically manages the Fund. However, his information systems may be hacked or attacked by viruses, or may be partially or fully disrupted in a manner limiting the Fund Manager's ability to effectively manage the Fund's investments. This would adversely affect the Fund's performance, net asset value of the Fund and the Unit price, which in turn would affect unit holders of the Fund.
26. Concentration Risks: Risks of investments concentration in a particular investment or state. Such risks are occurred upon lack of diversity, which may have a negative impact on the Fund's performance.
27. Custody Risks: These risks relate to losses incurred on securities held with the custodian or sub-custodian as a result of certain acts committed by him or the custodian's failure (such as: negligence, misuse of assets, fraud, mismanagement or inadequate record keeping). This would also affect the performance of the Fund, and in turn, have a negative impact on the net asset value in the Fund as well as the unit price.
28. Risks of Organizational Changes: The information contained in the present information note is based on existing and declared legislations. The laws applicable in the Kingdom, including the laws relating to taxes or Zakat during the term of the Fund, may be amended in a manner that may affect the Fund and its investments or the investors and may adversely affect the Fund's performance. Therefore, such amendments may have a negative impact on the net asset value of the Fund and Unit price.
29. Political Risks: The Fund may be directly or indirectly affected by political and economic developments in neighbouring regions, as these may affect all economic and development activities, including the Fund's activities. Any impact on the Fund's investments will have a direct impact on the returns generated to the Unit holders, and may therefore have a negative impact on the net asset value of the Fund.

30. Risks of Unit Price Fluctuations: Interest rate risks are the risks in which sukuk prices and other fixed income securities prices rise whenever the interest rates fall, and fall whenever the interest rates rise, resulting in fluctuations in the unit price.
